

Introduction

Complete installation of flooring to Headlam plc's new prestige head office.

Project Description

Having carried out their previous installation, the Headlam Group asked FLR Group to install all the flooring products on their new multi million pound state-of-the-art headquarters at Coleshill. Working in conjunction with both Andy Lakin the project manager from Headlam and designer Chris Orton of Thuja Design, the installation was completed to a 'fast track' and demanding programme. Intricate pattern work along with complex setting out only added to the overall challenge of completing the works on time. Our dedicated teams worked straight through the Christmas period, stopping only to open presents, to ensure target dates were achieved.
